eat city. The competitionline 2014/15 gingerbread competition

It's that time of the year again: competitionline is holding the eat city gingerbread competition for the sixth time. After finding a host of delicious solutions in recent years for the City Palace, Tempelhof airport and the Monument to Freedom and Unity, entrants to this year's baking challenge will face something that has already burnt a lot of fingers:

Berlin Brandenburg airport

The tale of woe that is this flagship project has already generated a mountain of construction and court files. Will we ever see planes taking to the skies from this airport, or what should be done with the BER instead? Who has a solution?

BER – pie in the sky or a piece of cake?

Surprise and seduce our jury of architects, journalists and professors with delicious, humorous ideas for BER, the city's new international airport. Who will manage to create a viable airport bakery concept using edible ingredients? Who will deliver it fresh from the oven or the refrigerator on schedule? And with a free choice of ingredients and recipes, the sky is the limit when it comes to ideas!

The competition is open to everybody and anybody wanting to rise to the creative challenge – on their own or with colleagues, children, friends and all gingerbread connoisseurs and lovers of sweet pastries.

Entrants can get cooking from 24 November 2014. The deadline for submissions is 15 January 2015. For more information and for our terms of participation, please visit our website at www.competitionline.com/BER.

And now please fold up your tables, bring your seats into an upright position and give your full attention to the following safety and competition announcements:

Submission of entries

Your creations must be photographed and submitted digitally. A maximum of 4 image files (JPG format) and a descriptive text (1,800 lines maximum) may be uploaded to the online participants' area under the heading „Wettbewerbsabgabe“ (Competition submissions). This is your guarantee that your contribution has been entered in the competition.
